Medical Assistants Contribute To Cobalt 60 Cancer Fund

The Monterey Peninsula Medical Assistants Association has just contirbuted another $1,000 to the Cobalt Cancer Fund of Community Hospital.

The gift was presented to Arthur C. Stewart, trustee of the hospital, by Mrs. Elaine Silva, president of the association.

Stewart said the check from the Medical Assistants Association brings to $2,500 the amount that organization has contirbuted to the fund to finance a cobalt cancer therapy center at the hospital.

The money was raised by the association at its recent annual dinner and fashion show held at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. The benefit event is a social highlight of the year.

Present at the check presentation in the radiology department at the hospital was Dr. Ben M. Dahle, radiologist, who explained that the addition which will house the new diagnostic center is now under construction. It will include a Cobalt 60 treatment unit.

In addition to thanking the Medical Assistants Association, Mr. Stewart took the opportunity to express the hospital's appreciation to other organizations which have donated to the Cobalt-Cancer Fund. They include the Bing Crosby Fund, Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula, Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, Monterey Peninsula Herald, Monterey Peninsula Herald, Monterey Elks Club, Monterey Community Center Auxiliary, Monterey Lions Club and 3,000 other contributors including memorials and estates.

The new diagnostic center, Dr. Dahle said, will be in operation within two years. In addition to Cobalt 60 treatment, the center will provide conventional X-ray, radio isotope and chemical therapy treatment. Peninsula patients now needing Cobalt 60 treatment must travel to San Jose.

Definitions of Motels Occupy City Council

by Gunnar Norberg

Nearest approach to a heated discussion of a matter on last night's City Council agenda came on a proposal to change the language of a section in city law which defines a motel.

The suggested change was presented in a report prepared by Mayor Barney Laiolo and Councilman Herbert Blanks, and proposed to say that a motel unit was "primarily" for sleeping purposes, and that such a unit would be used by "transient" occupants.

Councilman Frank Falge objected to any change in the existing definition, which simply states that motel guest rooms are to be used "for sleeping purposes by guests". He said he wanted no change in language until present questions about motels in the residential areas are decided, and the Council finally decided to forward the motel-definition report to the Planning Commission without any specific direction to the Commission as to what action was desired by the Council.

Probably the principal unresolved question with regard to residential-area motels, will be faced at the start of next month's regular Council meeting—at 8 p.m., Feb. 5—when the public hearing on an appeal against the granting of an amended use permit to the Edgemere Cottages, is scheduled to begin. The appeal which required the setting of the Feb. 5 hearing, was

Rates Up For 2nd Class Matter

Postal rates for newspapers, magazines and other material mailed at second-class rates were increased Jan. 1, Postmaster Fred G. Strong reminded second-class mailers today.

The increase results from the postage rate law enacted in December 1967, which raised most second-class rates in three annual steps. The Jan. 1, 1969, hike is the second phase of the increase. The first phase took effect Jan. 7, 1968, and the third step will go into effect Jan. 1, 1970.

Except for home-county mailings, postal rates for newspapers and magazines mailed second-class are based on the weight of the publication, the amount of advertising it contains, and the distance it is mailed.

Effective January 1, rates for editorial or non-advertising matter in commercial filed last week on behalf of 39 Carmel residents, by Percy Wilson, Carmel Citizens' Committee official.

That Committee's board of directors had previously gone on record as being unanimously opposed to the granting of the Edgemere request.

First unanimously turned down by the Planning Commission, the Edgemere request was later approved on a 4-to-3 split vote, after the City Council had ordered the Planning Commission to "reconsider" its initial refusal to grant the Edgemere permit. (Discussion of residential-area motels, such as Edgemere, is on the agenda for next Tuesday evening's Carmel Citizens' Committee annual 'town meeting,' which is to be held at All Saints.

New information on the expansion possibilities at residential-area motels, which were legalized only last spring on what many voters thought was a "no-expansion" basis, was presented in a report prepared by Chief City Building Inspector Fred Cunningham.

The new Cunningham chart indicates surprisingly that a half dozen of the 17 just legalized residential-area motels, could potentially add a total of 33 additional units, if loop-holes in last spring's supposed 'freeze' ordinance, are not soon closed.

Nineteen of those 33 potential new units, are listed on the Cunningham chart for two motel properties — Buena Vista Cottages and Carmel Cottage Court—both owned by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Zack. Four other possible new units each are shown for Forest Lodge and Cottages-By-The-Sea, while three each are marked down for the Catalan Residence and for the Edgemere Cottages, whose current remodeling request is in dispute.

The Cunningham chart does, of course, not grant any authority for the possible expansion to which reference has just been made, but it does point up the need for early action to close gaping loopholes in last spring's 'freeze' ordinance, if the 'stay put' provisions in the early part of that ordinanie are to mean what they say.

In addition to setting the Edgemere public hearing for 8 p.m., Feb. 5, the Council decided to follow that public hearing with two others:

One concerns additional and more specific language to define businesses permitted in the city; the other concerns a long-established means to hold down the size and impact of large business buildings by requiring that no such structure be built in an unbroken line along any street for more than 80 lineal feet at a time.

The City Council has held in abeyance for a long time a decision to join the Association of Monterey County Governments, but last night it finally did so. Councilman Eben Whittlesey was designated as the city's official representative to that organization, while Councilman Blanks was appointed alternate delegate. Main purpose of the organization is to make participating cities eligible for federal aid grants.

Action on a proposed major street improvement project for the portion of Junipero Street from Ocean Avenue to 8th, was postponed after considerable discussion. The Council will study the area in detail in the course of its next monthly 'tree tour' which is scheduled for Feb. 4th.

A hardly discussed ordinance on an unexpected subject won unanimous first-reading approval. The ordinance states that it "shall be unlawful for any person within the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea to utter or use within the hearing of one or more persons any profane language, words, epithets, or expression having a tendency to incite or create a breach of the peace."

A frequently heard objection to the parking of commercial vehicles in the residential areas of Carmel was presented to the Council by Carvel Baldwin, beside whose home—along the street, and on an adjacent vacant lot—commercial trucks have repeatedly parked. Baldwin asked the Council to consider an ordinance to limit and control such parking. The matter was referred to a committee composed of Councilman Whittlesey and Councilman Ken Brown.

Scheduled pay increases were granted to six members of the police department: Capt. William Ellis, Lt. Francis Fischer, Desk Sgt. Lester Fletcher, Sgt. Del Wermuth and Police Officers Jim Rutledge and Peter Koenen. Others receiving increases in pay were:

City Adiministrator Hugh Bayless, Fire Chief Raleigh Belvail, Street Forman Angelo Roman and Custodian Allen.

School Board Considers Change To Ease Middle School Crisis

Whether to transfer the fifth grade to the neighborhood elementary schools to alleviate the housing shortage at Middle School occupied the Carmel School Board and numerous interested parents at last night's meeting.

Reactions of parents were split between those who felt their children weren't ready for the association with older children and those who felt the children shouldn't be deprived of the Middle School program with its specialized teachers and facilities.

A Carmel Woods mother objected to her children having to leave at 7 a.m. to take the bus to Middle School when she could walk to Woods School.

A River School mother of four said that every year Middle School has improved, that there were better opportunities in science, reading, art, music and after-school sports program.

A father of four wondered about the foreign language program.

Joe Broadman, art teacher at Middle School, pointed out the sequential art and craft program, as well as the music program, one of the best in the nation.

A Carmel Valley mother said she would be happy to see the alternative of being able to elect to send a child to Middle School or keep him at the elementary school.

Board President Steven Sassoon asked Supt. Dr. Harris J. Taylor whether this would be possible.

He answered that if they knew in time, it would be possible although difficult.

Board member Richard Wilsdon pointed out that they couldn't offer an equal program.

Dr. Hilton Bialek, clerk, announced that the report from the citizens' committee looking into the all year around school was ready, but it was too long for this meeting.

A tentative study session date for next Tuesday, Jan. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at Carmel High School Brey Hall was set up to hear the report and discuss the possibilities.

OBITUARY

He was a forester in the U. S. Indian Service until his retirement. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances Lamont, and a brother, G. P. Lamont, both of Carmel.

JOSEPH BACON

Guitarist Joseph Bacon In Concert At MPC Music Hall On Jan. 10

Joseph Bacon, one of the outstanding American guitarists performing today, will appear in recital Friday, Jan. 10, at Monterey Peninsula College.

He will begin his program at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall, playing the works of composers ranging from the 16th century to the present day.

Tickets are available at the college community services office in the administration building on campus.

Son of the distinguished American composer Ernst Bacon and nephew of Madi Bacon, conductor of the renowned San Francisco Boys' Chorus, Joseph Bacon holds degrees from two universities — neither of them in music. He obtained a bachelor's degree in philosophy from Stanford University and a master's degree from Harvard University, also in philosophy.

He began his study of the guitar while still attending college in 1950 and was "mostly self-taught." He later took master classes and private instruction with Andres Segovia in Spain and Ida Presti and Alexander Lagoya in France. He has also studied with Alexander Bellow and with Julian Bream, who, he says, was his "strongest influence and greatest help."

He has been teaching classical guitar occasionally since 1955, intensively since 1964. Now a member of the faculty of the Music and Arts Institute, San Francisco, he has been concertizing in California since 1960 and broadcasting frequently on KPFA.

Critic William Ames has described Bacon's performances as exhibiting "technical mastery, excellent taste and a calmness which in no way interferes with the emotional expression of the music."

Teaching Purpose

The subject matter of a lecture and discussion at the River School Parents Club on Jan. 14 involves random teaching versus systematic teaching.

Dr. Gene England, the educational psychologist who heads the Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing, will lead the discusion.

Dr. England and his associates at the Institute are involved in designing specific teaching programs for various types of learning problems including reading, language construction, speaking, behavior problems, etc.

The Institute staff also conduct the program at the Children's House school which has become a model program for systematic learning for pre-school children.

The discussion will center not only on developing more effective learning in the classroom but perhaps even more importantly, teaching parents how to develop the type of behavior in their child they desire.

The rules of learning are well known but knowledge of their systematic application by parents and sometimes even teachers remains a dark mystery.

The lecture and discussion will be held at River School at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 14.

Padre Trails Photo Club Will Meet

The Padre Trails Camera Club will meeet on Thursday evening, Jan. 16, in Brey Hall, Carmel High School, at 8 p.m.

The club contest for color slides will consist of pictorial subjects, and each member will be permitted to enter four slides. All of these entries must have been made within the past 18 months.

The same rule applies to the club contest for black and white prints.

A recorded, illustrated lecture from the Photographic Society of America will be shown.

The title is "The Creative Eye," and it is designed for those interested in creating different pictures by use of various focal length lenses, different filters, etc.

Visitors will be welcome.

The showing will be on display for approximately six weeks every day except Mondays from 1 to 4 p.m. Admission is free.

Explorerama Carmel

The Explorers Club of San Francisco will present a new season of Explorerama Carmel beginning Jan. 10 at 8:15 p.m. at the Sunset Theater, 8th and San Carlos Streets, Carmel.

All five films in the current series are professionally produced travel and adventure color films. Each film will be narrated in person by its producer, and will be accompanied by stereophonic background and sound effects.

Nicol Smith will narrate his award winning film "Australia" tomorrow evening. Smith spent six months in Australia and travelled over 19,000 miles in the production of this exciting travel-adventure.

Excitement and adventure are not new to Smith. During World World II he served as a lieutenant colonel in the OSS in Thialand and Vichy, France.

He is the author of five books including the "Golden Doorway to Tibet." In this, his latest book, he related his experiences in organizing and leading a caravan across western Tibet to Lake Pangong, the great salt lake in Central Asia.

Some books describe Australia as the world's smallest continent; others say it is the world's largest island. Australians like to think big —so to the average Aussie there's no quibbling and no nonsense about being the smallest continent. It's the LARGEST island in the Universe.

Future programs in the series will include "The People of Japan" with Gene Wiancko on Jan. 25; "Portraits of Spain" with Curtis Nagel on Feb. 21; "The Blue Danube" with Phil Walker on March 22; and "I Love Mexico" with Thayer Soule on April 11.

Tickets are available at the Central Box Office, 6th & Mission (May Court) phone 624-6739, and at Abinante Music Store, Monterey, phone 372-5893.

Arts Coordinating Council

The Arts Coordinating Council will meet next Wednesday, Jan. 15 at 2 p.m. at the Estrada Adobe, Monterey. Membership is open to anyone interested in the arts and includes a subscription to its monthly calendar of events called "Focus On The Arts."

The Council serves as a clearing house for dates of special events and speaks as the united voice of the arts in the community.

The Pine Cone, the Carmel Cultural Commission, together with all of the major cultural organizations based at the Carmel Cultural Center, are members of the Council. These include the Carmel Bach Festival, Carmel Music Society, Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula, Friends of Photography and the Monterey County Symphony Association.

For further information call Mrs. Eleanor H. Melvin, executive director of the council at 624-5560.

Christian Science Radio Program

This Sunday morning the program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You" will be "Holding On Versus Dropping Out." It will be broadcast on stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45 a.m. This program explains how lifting thought to God makes one a master instead of a victim of circumstances.

Ebi, Meckel Will Speak At ACCMC

Featured speakers at the January meeting of the Arts Coordinating Council will be Earl Ebi, new director of the Old Monterey Bicentennial and Peter Meckel, executive dean of the Hidden Valley Music School.

Meckel will tell of the plans for locating the school in this area permanently and Ebi will describe the plans for the bicentennial celebration which begins in Monterey in 1970.

The meeting will be held in the Monterey Savings and Loan Community Room in the Estrada Adobe in Monterey at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 15.

The public is invited to attend.

S.F.B. Morse To Be Honored Jan. 20

Director of the Del Monte Forest Homeowners Association, Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Cypress Point Club and Stillwater Yacht Club (representing the Beach and Tennis Club) will sponsor a luncheon Jan. 20 honoring Samuel F. B. Morse.

Morse will be honored as the originator of the Del Monte Forest concept of land development and a conservator of the beauty of the Monterey Peninsula.

Charles Kramer, president of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, where the event will be held, is chairman.

Bing Crosby will be master of ceremonies and Allen Griffin will be the speaker.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Best Recipes From Party Plans"

Going back is not always rewarding.

Going over the back issues of "Party Plans" since its first appearance on Nov. 11, 1965, has been rewarding indeed.

It is quite difficult to single out the prize dishes created by top Carmel gourmets. But we're starting our survey of fine food with Mr. Stuyvesant Fish's own unique method of preparing his famed home-grown wild boar. This was served at Rancho Palo Corona to Princess Margaret and Lord Snowden on the occasion of their visit to our Peninsula.

Stuyvie's Imperial Wild Boar

Make a marinade of 3 parts burgundy wine, 1 part soy sauce, 1 part melted butter, ½ part fresh lemon juice and ¼ part honey. Throw in a few crumbled rosemary and bay leaves with salt and cracked pepper to taste.

Barbecue the spitted boar over glowing oakwood charcoal into which laurel leaves and eucalyptus twigs have been scattered. Baste with above marinade using barbecuing mop. Wild boar tends to be somewhat dry, so almost continuous basting with the wine marinade is necessary.

Spit roast, turning often, 30 minutes to the pound until outside is bronzed and inside very tender. Major Grey's chutney and mustard chow-chow compliment this chef d'oeuvre. A suckling piglet boar is the best.

One of our favorite haunts on old Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey is Anastasia's fish market. What could be more picturesque than Italian-Monterey fishermen in black rubber hip boots, with cigars and mid-day buckets of freshly cooked cioppino.

Mama Anastasia's Crab Cioppino

Two large red onions, chopped; 2 garlic cloves, minced; 1 green pepper, veins and seeds rmoved, sliced; 1 bunch green onions with tops, chopped; 1 cup olive oil; 2 cans tomato puree; dash, each, crushed oregano, rosemary and basil; white wine; salt and freshly ground pepper to taste. Crab legs, lightly steamed; Parmesan cheese; clove-studded lemon wedges; chopped parsley; paprika and croutons.

Saute vegetables in olive oil; add tomato puree diluted half and half with dry white wine. Season and simmer, stirring often. Remove shells and tendons from crab legs. Leave these as whole as possible. Add to sauce and heat through until piping.

Put into flame-proof soup bowls. Pop them under the broiler until cheese is melted. Decorate each with parsley, lemon and croutons. Sprinkle with paprika. Serves 2.

Luckily, pheasant may be hunted the year around at private shooting preserves, Dr. Dexter Whitcomb, well known local sportsman, keeps their ample freezer supplied with succulent pheasant for gala, as well as family, meals.

Whitcomb Pheasant Supreme

One 5 lb. dressed pheasant; salt, pepper, flour, butter; 1 can condensed cream of mushroom sup; 1 soup can filled with dry sauterne wine; ½ pint sour cream; wild rice.

Cut up pheasant into serving pieces. Season and dust with flour. In large cast iron skillet, melt butter and lightly brown pieces. Pour off drippings. Combine the soup, wine and sour cream. Pour this sauce over pheasant, cover with tight-fitting lid and simmer on top of stove over lowest flame possible until fork tender. Serve on platter kept hot at table on electric warmer. Follow directions on package of wild rice. Serve with currant jelly. Serves 4.

Germaine Olivie, Brussels born and reared, but also longtime Carmel resident, is noted for her cordon bleu cuisine. One of her specialties, served at her perfectly appointed dinners, is

Canard a l'Orange

One 4 lb. duckling; 4 T. butter; 4 T. Marsala wine; 2 finely chopped mushrooms; 3 large oranges; salt and pepper; 3 T. cornstarch mixed with 3 T. wine; 2 cups canned chicken broth; ½ cup dry red wine; 1 bay leaf, crumbled; ¼ cup curacao liqueur; 1 cup cherry preserves.

Truss the defrosted frozen junior duckling; dry well with paper towels inside and out. Season cavity with onion salt and black pepper; saute duckling on all sides in butter.

Roast in 350° oven until crisply brown; do not add water or cover. Prick with kitchen fork often to release fat and discard same as it accumulates.

To make sauce, add to the pan juices, the mushrooms, the finely shredded rind of one orange and cook gently for 5 minutes; remove from top of stove and add cornstarch mixed to a smooth paste with wine and broth. As it thickens, add the wine, bay leaf and juice of 2 oranges. Add liqueur and cherry jam until melted and blended. If sauce is too thin, boil it down until thickened and add the skinned sliced sections of 2 oranges. Serve sauce very hot in silver bowl. Decorate platter with watercress. Serves 4.

As a salute to the Carmel Mission visited by countless tourists daily, we give a typically early California recipe. This was given especially to Pine Cone readers by Harry Downie, genial curator-restorer of our mission. Downie tells us that the Spanish soldiers who guarded the mission when it was first founded, preferred white flour tortillas as against cornmeal ones which the Indians and Mexicans doted upon.

Harry Downie's Tortillas

Two cups unsifted white wheat four; 2 T. shortening; 1 t. salt; warm water to make a stiff dough.

Divide dough into 16 round balls and press very thin. Use rolling pin until each is rolled to a 10-inch diameter. Fry tortillas, one at a time, on hot greaseless griddle until light brown on each side. Tie up in cloth to keep warm.

Salsa

Two cups dried chili peppers, seeds, veins, stems removed. Grind, add water to cover and boil until soft with 2 crushed garlic cloves, ½ t. oregano and powdered cumin, each, with sugar and salt to taste. If you do not relish a very biting sauce, cut chili peppers down to 1 cup. Simmer, then thicken slightly with cornstarch and water.

Cheese Filling

Four onions, chopped fine; simmer them in ½ cup olive oil; mix with 2 cups tangy yellow cheese cubes; 1 cup chopped ripe olives; 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped. Mix these ingredients well, but do not mash.

Dip each tortilla in heated salsa, spread with cheese filling, roll up and put in shallow baking pan. Pour some sauce over all. Bake in 325° F. oven until thoroughly heated and cheese melted and bubbly. Serve with more sauce and grated cheese on top. Delicioso!

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

This library receives a series of books which are published under the general title of The Reference Shelf.

This week the publication in the series is Crime and Prevention by Stephen Lewin. It is a small book containing the author's thoughts stated compactly.

He says that crime is not the vice of a few. About 40% of all males in the United States will perform during their lifetimes some act which could land them in jail if they were caught, and this statistic does not include traffic violations.

Fear of crime has eroded the quality of life for many Americans. It's all here, from murder, rape, and burglary, to inciting riots and organizing syndicates.

The final chapter is the Prevention part as stated in the title.

Reading this book will not take long and it may do much to enlarge our understanding of the problem of crime.

How to Live With Hypoglycemia is by Dr. Charles Weller. He tells what the condition can do to you and what you can do about it.

The first step is to learn if you really do have hypoglycemia and this involves a six hour blood sugar test which is not painful but is a nuisance. After that, if you do have the condition, there is the diet which you stay on forever, but dieting is better than the ups and downs you experience without it. Reading this book is the beginning. Then, if it sounds like you, go to your doctor.

A really sickening book is America the Beautiful edited by Joel Lieber.

The author spreads before our shuddering gaze all of our own foibles, from Barbie dolls to to topless waitresses and retirement communities so flimsily constructed you can tell the weather by glancing thru the cracks in the walls.

A biography by Donald Murray is entitled Charles Percy of Illinois. This is the first biography of Percy which we have had and it may be the first one published. Best you should read about him for he is the fair haired boy of the Republican party and no telling where he may end!

Of books about the Vietnam war there seems to be no end. Comes now The Village of Ben Suc by Jonathan Schell. This village was one that was completely annihilated by the American forces, bombed, bulldozed, and then bombed again. It is a sad, small book, and perhaps we all should read it.

And finally, let us call attention to the latest book from Thomas Merton. It is entitled Mystics and Zen Masters.

The author immersed himself in the literature of his subject for many years.

This book is a collection of articles or essays which he published over a period of years and which he revised and incorporated into the book. It should be of value to followers of Thomas Merton and to students of Zen.

There is a flock of new fiction this week, but that you will find for yourselves. So have a Happy New Year and read a lot of good books ! ! !

Movie Review

Great Catherine — Jeanne Moreau as Catherine (amorous empress) and Peter O'Toole (amorous target of amorous empress) as an English diplomat. Zero Mostel and Jack Hawkins also star.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

Doctor Dolittle—Rex Harrison is Hugh Lofting's delightful little doctor who learns to converse with the animals. Amusing comedy, delightful score, all-around great picture.

The Detective—Frank Sinatra is outstanding as a tough New York cop. The picture seems to wander at times, but it is never dull. Excellent cast including Lee Remick, Jacqueline Bisset, a newcomer, Jack Klugman and Ralph Meeker.

I LOVE YOU, ALICE B. TOKLAS — Peter Sellers. That should be enough to pack the house. Add newcomer Leigh Taylor-Young, Lou Gottleib and Jo Van Fleet and you've got a great motion picture.

The Fox — Sandy Dennis, Keir Dullea and Anne Heywood star in this film of D. H. Lawrence's short novel. Keir Dullea is caught in a triangle of passion when he intrudes on the idyllic life of the two women.

Eye of the Devil — David Niven and Deborah Kerr fight sinister forces in this thriller about religious cults. David Hemmings, Sharon Tate and Donald Pleasence are also starred.

Candy—Just about everybody in Hollywood shows up in this incuding Marlon Brando, Richard Burton, Walter Mathau and Ringo Starr. Script by Buck Henry, who wrote "The Graduate."

Theatre Guide

The Roar of Grease Paint, Smell of the Crowd—Comedy musical - drama about the haves and the don't haves. Great entertainment at the Circle, playing to packed houses. This is the theatrical season in Carmel, so reservations for all live performances in town, please.

Guys and Dolls — Damon Runyon's Broadway smash concerning a floating crap game, a Salvation Army lassie and lots of guys and their dolls. Runyonese became a part of the American scene with the success of this musical.

'Australia' Set for Sunset, Opens 'Explorerama 1969'

Well-known travel and adventure film producer Nicol Smith who has made an enviable reputation as an explorer of strange and remote places, will narrate his award winning film "Australia" at 8:15 p.m., Friday, Jan. 10 at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel.

The film is the first of this year's Explorerama series which is sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco.

Nicol Smith was the first person to explore and photograph the remote interior of the island of Hainan, and first to make a round trip over the fabulous Burma Road during the rainy season.

Perhaps his most unusual adventure was his caravan journey across western Tibet to Lake Pangong, the first of the great salt lakes of Central Asia. He is the author of five books, the most recent of which is "Golden Doorway to Tibet." During the war as Lieutenant Colonel Smith he was a secret agent for the OSS in both Thailand and Vichy, France.

He spent six months in Australia during the production of the film and traveled more than 19,000 miles during the filming.

Future programs of the new series include "The People of Japan", Jan. 25; "Portraits of Spain", Feb. 21; "The Blue Danube", Mar. 22 and "I Love Mexico", Apr. 11.

All of the films are feature-length, in color and will be narrated in person by their photographers.

Reserved seat series tickets for the five films and single program tickets are now on sale at Central Box Office in Carmel, phone: 624-6739 and Abinante Music Store in Monterey, phone: 372-5893. The tickets will also be on sale at the Sunset Auditorium after 7:15, Friday, Jan. 10.

Carmel Graphics Instructors' Show

Carmel Graphics, located in Room 4, Sunset Cultural Center, will sponsor an Instructors' Show on Friday evening, Jan. 10, to run in conjunction with the opening of the Minor White photography show sponsored by the Friends of Photography.

The Graphics show will feature silk screen prints of Howard Bradford, who teaches, oddly enough, silk screen printing at the Graphics school, and the wood block carvings of Instructor Dick Cristo.

Carmel Graphics will supply refreshments in the way of punch, cookies and coffee, and tape recorders will fill the background with music.

No charge of course, and the public is cordially invited.

Admiral C. W. Fisher

Carmel Citizens Committee To Hold Annual Town Meeting

The Carmel Citizens Committee will hold its annual Town Meeting next Tuesday, Jan. 14th at 7:30 p.m. at the Parish Hall, All Saints' Episcopal Church, Lincoln and 9th Streets, Carmel.

Admiral C. W. Fisher, (USN ret), president of the Carmel Citizens Committee, will present his annual report to the members regarding activities of the Committee during the past year.

The Committee was formed in 1958 in response to a growing awareness on the part of concerned citizens that Carmel was in danger of losing its charm and individuality to the inroads of commerce, tourism and commercial exploitation.

To counteract these forces and to protect the best interests of the residents of Carmel, the Carmel Citizens Committee was organized to crystallize and voice public opinion at meetings of the City Council and other public bodies.

All residents of Carmel and its contiguous areas are eligible for membership. There are no dues or assessments. All officers and directors serve without pay. Expenses of the Committee are met by voluntary contributions from interested citizens.

Two items of crucial importance to Carmel will be discussed and reported on by Admiral Fisher: Motels in the residential area, and the Flanders Canyon subdivision.

The problem of motels in the residential area has become quite serious in recent weeks due to the City Council reversing a decision of the Planning Commission when the commission denied the Edgemere Cottages a use permit to expand.

"We believe," Admiral Fisher stated, "that there should be no increase in number of lots, or number of units, and no increase in building coverage or floor area at any of the recently legalized motels in Carmel's residential areas.

"We believe, furthermore, that many of the people who voted for the ordinance which legalized those residential-area motels thought that the main point of that ordinance was that there would be no expansion of any kind, and no increase of any sort, ever allowed at those motels."

"I urge all concerned Carmelites to come to the meeting and make their views on this vital matter known."

Carmel Plaza Sold

Sale of the controversial Carmel Plaza by its owners, The Carmel Plaza Corporation, to a purchaser in Southern California was announced last week.

The Plaza, which at present houses a branch of the Bank of America, Crosby's Plaza Jewelers, Tom Watts', Sambo's, Carmel Sports Shop, I. Magnin, The Peruvian Shop, Carmel Florists and June Turner's Beauty Salon, was sold to the Consolidated Mortgage Company of Laguna Beach.

The present structure was started in 1959 on the site of a Spanish-style building that housed the old Carmel Theater.

Considerable controversy was generated over the architecture in the proposed Plaza, the inclusion of a large garage in the original plans and a general objection to "big business" in the area.

Boat Show

Luxurious houseboats — to buy or rent—will be on display at the 27th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 10-19, at the Cow Palace, the first national boat show in the country for the new year.

With its popularity on a continually steady increase, "houseboating" has become a family vacation concept, and the manufacturers have been quick to recognize the trend.

Among those to exhibit new entries for 1969 will be Chris-Craft, with its new 33' model. It is made of fiberglass, sleeps six persons and has 6'5" headroom throughout.

All that's new in boating —luxury curisers, sailboats, large and small boats of all kinds—and everything for the fisherman, camper, hunter, vacationist and outdoor sports enthusiast will be on exhibit at this show.

Show hours will be 2-11 p.m., daily; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Saturdays; and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sundays.

Padre Hoopsters Ice Live Oak

by Hal Gann

(About the author: Hal Gann has 19 years of producing sports and special event broadcasts. While attending Texas A&M Gann majored in journalism with a minor in speech, and was actively engaged in sports writing for the college's commercially maintained newspaper, receiving the Southwest Conference Award of freshman journalism ability, performing sports shows on the school's radio station, selling his own sponsors.

Unfortunately, asthma, a life-long nemesis, got the best of him so Gann went to Denver in 1956 and '57, announcing Bears Baseball on a Coors Network of six stations and describing the play-by-play performances of Tony Kubeck and Bobby Richardson, who later starred for the New York Yankees, and describing the antics of Denver Manager Ralph Houk, who now pilots the Yanks.

Having overcome asthma, Gann went to the San Joaquin Valley to establish and own one of the first UHF independent television stations, Channel 21, Hanford, with Fresno as a principal market. However, the early transmission problems of UHF, as compared with the other VHF outlets in the market forced Gann to sell out in 1961.

In addition to maintaining three sports play-by-play series out of the Peninsula area, with other announcers hired on a part-time basis, Gann for the past three years has produced and announced Peninsula sports, specializing in high school games, and is currently contracted with KRSA-FM, 100.7 mc.

"FM Radio, though not as yet in its prime, has an impressive number of listeners on the Peninsula," Gann remarked. "Proof of this is registered by the many comments we have received, regarding our live broadcasts of Carmel, Seaside, Monterey, and Pacific Grove High School Basketball games."

Flooring perhaps the Peninsula's most soundly conditioned quintet, The Carmel Padres downed a young Live Acorn team last Friday evening at Morgan Hill, 76 to 60, to climax a perfect slate for all three Carmel High teams.

Earlier, the Freshmen aggragation poured it on with a lopsided, 70 to 29 shellacking, and then as a preliminary to the main encounter, the Carmel Junior Varsity, sparked by Tom Beardsley, Scott Morris, Jim Conlan, and Jeff Canepa, waltzed to a 49-26 win.

Once again, Bruce Winkler (6-5) starred for the Padres. The scintillating transfer student from Campbell of the San Jose area rocketed for 21 rebounds, and registered 32 points.

"Winkler's transferring to Carmel is a real blessing," comments Padre Mentor Jason Harbert, one of the game's better fundamentalists. "We can hope the flu bug never claims him as a victim."

Carmel already has downed last year's league champs, Palma, and knocked off Pacific Grove by 21 points on the Breaker home floor. The Padres fared well in the first annual Seaside High School Christmas Tournament, defeeating a tough Peterson club from Sunnyvale, and taking Monterey High School of the Monterey Bay League, 62-50.

Audubon Society January Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will be held in the music room of Carmel High School on Friday, Jan. 10 at 8 p.m.

Dr. R. L. Branson will discuss the Monterey Peninsula Christmas bird counts, reviewing the changes in the distribution and abundance of birds.

On Saturday, Jan. 11, the society will hold its first outing of 1969, an observation of five different species of marine mammals.

The group will meet at 9 a.m. at the Coast Guard breakwater to observe at close range the California sea lions. The group will then move to Point Pinos, where gray whales should be at the peak of their migration south.

Other species to be seen will be harbor seals, Steller sea lion and sea otters.

The trip should be over by 1 p.m., and those who plan to attend should bring binoculars or telescopes.

Leader for the mammal trip will be Alan Baldridge of the Hopkins Marine Station.

The public is cordially invited to attend both of these Audubon events.

World Affairs Topic SE Asia

Prof. Claude A. Buss, presently in Southeast Asia and well known speaker here, will address the World Affairs Council at its next meeting at Brey Hall, Carmel High School, Friday, Jan. 17 at 8 p.m.

Prof. Buss has vast experience in teaching, government service, publishing and foreign travel.

'Don't Be Fenced In By Conventional Thinking' Says C. M. Carr In Lecture

Just about everyone wants to be free—free of whatever is restrictive, Charles M. Carr, C.S.B., of New York City, told an audience in Carmel, Tuesday noon.

"Perhaps we've all felt fenced in, in one way or another by business or family demands, illness, youth or age, lack of opportunity, education, money."

The point is, Carr said in his Christian Science lecture called, "Why Be Fenced In?" we don't have to go on being hemmed in.

There is a new-old way to freedom. It's through "spiritual insight."

He quoted from the Bible: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths" (Proverbs 3: 5,6).

Most of us have been educated to think and live within certain boundary lines. But the accomplishers in this world are, in the main, people "who had a yen to break down restricting concepts," the lecturer said.

"The Wright brothers didn't accept the belief that objects heavier than air couldn't fly, and their plane flew.

"Nylon resulted from the efforts of a chemist, Carothers, to go beyond commonly accepted chemical theories.

"Mathematicians have made great advances when they've gone beyond mathematical concepts that can be represented by physical objects."

Carr quoted Dr. Loren Eiseley, well known for his books on the sweep of human history and environment. Dr. Eiseley has spoken of the great need to go beyond present-day technological breakthroughs if civilization is to have a truly meaningful dimension. He feels that this will be accomplished through spiritual insight, the lecturer stated.

"It's precisely this spiritual insight which is the basic factor in Christian Science—insight derived from Spirit, the limitless, indestructible and eternal," Carr said.

"This insight isn't just analyzing an outward material sense of life, nor is it our own human understanding. It's an indwelling, spiritual understanding that comes from the very Principle of our being. It's the result of reliance on the divine intelligence, or Mind, rather than on our own limited thinking. It's an open door to reality—an inner spiritual discernment of man as the expression of the living Principle of all things, God."

We must start with the premise that there's one God, one spiritual cause, and therefore only one effect, and that spiritual not physical, perfect not imperfect, the lecturer explained. Whatever is not good can't be a hard and fast reality about anyone or anything. It's simply a spiritually uneducated point of view.

Spiritual insight is what gave Jesus "a continuously fresh view of life," Carr stated. Jesus proved by his healing works what this fresh view could do. Carr cited the healing of the man born blind and the boy with convulsions. He said Jesus' forgiveness of the woman taken in adultery showed how the fresh view of "Go and sin no more"—instead of the old way of condemnation — regenerated character.

Results like these prove, the lecturer said, that the spiritual view isn't theoretical or impractical. He reminded his audience of Paul's words, "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Rom. 12:2).

"In modern language that means," he said, "Don't be fenced in by what you think you see and know about people, things, circumstances. Don't accept the outward apearance as a true evaluation.

"We need to renew our mind with a fresh, true view, through prayer.

"This can free us from all kinds of restrictives. It enables us to step out and take fresh views of ourselves, and our relations with others and the universe."

As an example, he told how a young businessman had completely revamped his life and his business through developing spiritual insight.

"As he zeroed in on a deeper understanding of God, the basic, spiritual Principle of all existence—he began to see that this Principle is Mind, the only real Mind there is. And that each individual, as God's image and likeness, expresses this Mind. So each has ability, capacity, motivation."

He stopped being preoccupied with his own material observations and personal ambitions, and the outward result was that he came up with useful, purposeful ideas.

He changed from a narrow, confining type of business to a related one in a marketing field just beginning to develop. He realigned his product sources and his marketing techniques. Before long the business was operating in ten states, and supplying a useful service that was also profitable to himself.

"You see, through spiritual insight—which is really a nudge from God—he began to do the right thing, at the right time, with less time lag, less material struggle."

"As we develop spiritual insight," said Carr, "and conform our thinking accordingly, we find we're not hemmed in by limitations, sickness, and mortality's parade of problems.

"As we step across the old lines of thought, our entire lives will be transformed. We'll express the abundant freedom Jesus promised to each of us.

"We'll feel God's presence. We'll realize our full potential as we step out and take a fresh view."

Episcopal Clergy Reaffirmation

The clergy of the Episcopal congregations on the Monterey Peninsula wish to reaffirm their committment to the sacredness of marriage and the integrity of the life-long vows made in the legal contract.

In the light of the recent third marriage of Bishop Pike we wish to state unequivocally that the Church exists to bring a way of love and peace to people. We wish the Pikes well, but assert that the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Episcopal Church in the United States (as found in the Book of Common Prayer and the canon law of the Church) are designed to help, not to thwart, the manner in which that way is to be found.

Marriage is a Christian sacrament which mirrors the relationship of Christ to His Church. The procedures for remarriage of divorced persons in the Church are workable and revisable. They have brought to many a fuller happiness because men and women have gone through them rather than around them. The health of individuals, and American society itself, depends upon the strength and integrity of the home. To this end we reaffirm our ministeries.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

The Lesson-Sermon is titled "Sacrament," and the Golden Text is from I Samuel: "Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams."

Included in the readings is the following reference from the Christian Science textbook Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and healtfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments.'"

"Running Heavy" by Hans Skaalegaard

SQUARE RIGGERS A THRILL

By Louise Cook

Three square rigged naval training ships will anchor in Monterey Bay during the centennial celebration of Monterey next year. This is an exciting and now once in a life-time event in store for residents of the Monterey Peninsula.

The ships are being sent here by the navies of three South American countries and will come into the bay under full sail.

What a thrilling sight this will be.

For anyone who feels a wistful nostalgia for the days of sailing ships, a visit to Skaalegaard's Square-Rigger Art Gallery on Dolores St. will prove very satisfying.

Having had the experience of shipping on some of the last of these giants, Hans Skaalegaard is able to paint them with authority, technical skill and affection. He works not only from old engravings and photographs but can also reconstruct them using only the original plans.

Each painting, whether a partial or full view of the ship, is done with complete authenticity, as to wind, waves and set of sail as well as ship detail.

Richard Hamilton is another artist exhibiting at Skaalegaard's. His moody seascapes, done in oil on canvas impart a not unpleasant eeriness due to the interesting use of light and dark contrasts.

Saturday Vocational Classes To Begin Feb. 1 For High School Students

Saturday morning classes in five fields will begin Feb. 1 for Peninsula high school students including Carmel.

Instruction will be offered in automotive maintenance, as nurse's aide and orderly, retail selling and merchandising, and light vehicle equipment operation.

Classes will be held at Monterey High School and at the MPUSD service center in Del Rey Oaks. Transportation to and from classes will be provided by bus from Carmel Valley via Carmel for Carmel students.

Classes will meet each Saturday morning for 3½ hours, with the courses divided into two 10-week sessions. About 28 students per high school are proposed.

The classes are intended to give enough training to qualify students for jobs.

The nurse's aide and orderly training will provide experience in patient care, hospital and home procedures in care of the ill and bedridden, and basic nursing procedures.

The class in automotive maintenance will cover automobile tuning, front end alignment and brakes, and smog device installation and servicing.

Training in retail selling will cover sales techniques, displays, employment procedures, customer relations, retail management, and credit-financing policies.

Construction training will provide job entry skills in construction and woodworking. There will be instruction in tools, terminology, and plan reading.

Light vehicle equipment will train students in maintenance and operation of equipment such as fork lifts, gang mowers, street sweepers, dump trucks, tractors and road graders.

The program will be operated under the sponsorship of the Peninsula Regional Occupational Program (PROP) which is composed of the three unified school districts of the Peninsula.

Last year a 2-cent tax per $100 assessed valuation was levied by the County Office of Education to finance the establishment of the program.

A survey of needs was made which used only $1000 of the $38,800 raised.

A budget of $14,900 is allocated for the February to June classes. Of this, $11,000 will come from PROP funds, the other $3,900 from state income for average daily attendance.

Who's New

One new Carmel resident, Mrs. Marion Stout, hopes to contribute to the Peninsula as well as benefit.

She hopes to resume here the work with disadvantaged children which she began in Oakland after she was widowed three years ago. Her volunteer experience led to internship and graduate work.

She is waiting for completion of remodeling of her home on Junipero which, she says, "I love, and my garden and oak tree with a bench and a squirrel, and more and more humming birds.

A native Californian, Mrs. Stout began her career as a WAVE. At the University of California at Berkeley, she was home economist for consumer information on textiles and clothing, and later home economist for Westinghouse Electric in Oregon. She also conducted a fund-raising project for women's groups, "Luncheon Is Served."

It's Later Than We Thought: Almost Time For The "Crosby" Again!

And the "Crosby" means one of the best times of the year for selling weekenders and part-time homes! Unfortunately, our supply of available properties which fit these requirements is very low right now, particularly in Carmel proper. Does your house have one or two bedrooms? Is it within walking distance of Carmel and the beach? Will it fall into the price range of $25,000 to $45,000? Is your landscaping easy to maintain? Do you want to sell? If so, this may be your last really good opportunity until Easter vacation. Why don't you give us a ring? No obligation to discuss the idea.

Padres Offer Prize Rose Cuttings

Sunday, Jan. 12 is the day the padres of Old Mission San Antonio, near the town of Jolon, give away thousands of cuttings from the prize rose bushes in their monastery garden.

Free distribution begins at 1 p.m., and continues as long as the cuttings last.

All are welcome.

This is an annual event which attracts numerous rose fanciers, gardeners and other visitors to the mission.

The padres, members of the brown-robed Franciscan friars founders of the historic California mission chain, cordially invite all who would like such living souvenirs of their ancient mission. Their monastery garden contains 35 species of prize roses and 353 bushes, and is one of California's outstanding rose gardens.

The mission is easily reached from Highway 101. Those coming from the north turn west on Jolon Road north of King City.

'Laser Beam' Topic For Carmel Rotary

"Light for Communications," a discussion of the future of laser beams by Dick Piepenburg of Pacific Telephone, was presented to Carmel Rotarians at their noon meeeting yesterday at the La Playa Hotel.

The application of laser in the world of tomorrow and the demonstration of the potential of using coherent light beams for industry, space flight, communications and even medical surgery was demonstrated by Piepenburg, who pointed that laser is a tool that bridges the gap between science and fiction.

Next week the Rotarians will hear Pastor Jan Kucera, who has recently escaped Communist tyranny, speak on "Jan Masaryk and the Rotarians."

Probe Asked

A citizens group has asked California Congressman John E. Moss, long a foe of secrecy in government, to probe Pacific Gas and Electric Company's withholding of plans to evacuate 100,000 residents if a major accident occurs at the proposed Diablo Canyon atomic reactor in San Luis Obispo County.

Scenic Shoreline Preservation Conference, Inc., the requesting group, pointed out that federal regulations require that PG&E submit evacuation plans with its application, and that failure to do so "betrays contempt for the public.
